WOULD YOU RATHER FLY OR SAIL THE DRAKE PASSAGE?

The Antarctic Circumpolar Current (ACC) is the strongest ocean current on Earth, uninterrupted by land for millions of years. The Drake Passage is where that huge current converges through a small passage, earning its nickname - roughest sea on Earth. Named after discoverer, Sir Francis Drake, it's notorious for sea vessels with waves over 40 feet too often. The 3 day long journey on a boat through this "washing machine" experience, is not for the weak stomachs.

Luckily, there's no need for you to find out about the Drake's formidable waves for yourself! Instead of crossing the Drake Passage by boat, wasting time and energy, we have the advantage of saving 5 days of sailing by simply flying conveniently over Drake in a 2 hour specially chartered jet airplane.

If only the early sailors of the Antarctic had known we would be able to do that... Our chartered ship, the Ocean Nova, will wait for us near King George Island, and we will board it after a short hike and with the help of Zodiac boats.

FLIGHT TO ANTARCTICA - DAY 2

Begin your Antarctic air-cruise with a scheduled two-hour flight from Punta Arenas to King George Island in Antarctica. Upon landing, the clear Antarctic air will fill your lungs. You will then walk 2km, passing Chile's Frei Station, to reach the shore and board a Zodiac that will take you to your boutique expedition vessel. Immediately, we will start heading south, towards the peninsula, so that in the morning we will already be at our first landing site.

DAY 3-11 - ANTARCTIC EXPLORATION

Cruise around the western coast of the Antarctic Peninsula, sailing among the spectacular landscapes Antarctica offers. Each day, we disembark by Zodiac and explore with our expert guides. We will reach all the best landing sites of the Antarctic Peninsula, at the best times of the day.

On board, you will enjoy our educational programs and presentations, while meeting extraordinary individuals of high impact and passion for conservation and our environment.

Thanks to our research permits, and small size of our sailboat, we will achieve so much more than any other vessel in the Antarctic waters.

SAIL NORTH AND FLY BACK - DAY 12

We will sail back to King George Island and bid farewell to Antarctica before boarding your flight back to Punta Arenas. Upon arrival from the 7th continent, transfer to your hotel for the night and enjoy an evening at your own leisure.

MORNING FAREWELL - DAY 13

After breakfast we will transfer you to the Punta Arenas Airport for your journey home, or your continuous exploration of Tierra Del Fuego in the southern tip of South America.
